YESTERDAY'S DISPATCHES.

PERSIA.

TEHERAN, June 8.—The government of Herat has sent men to fortify Balah Murghab. Advices from Merv are to the effect that the Russians are taking the greatest care to prevent foreigners from communicating with the Turcomans, and have expelled Persians who were supposed to be corresponding with the Afghans.

INDIA.

LONDON, June 8.—Cholera has made its appearance among the laborers on the Quetta railway, and also at Kindi Bunn, the depot of the commissariat camp.

RANGOON, June 8.—Newspapers here are discussing the separation of Burmah from India, and making it a crown colony. They complain of the neglect of the Indian government. The Rangoon chamber of commerce supports the proposals. There is no foundation for the report of the assassination of the ameer.

LONDON, June 8.—Calcutta dispatches continue to be received here about the earthquake in the Vale of Cashmere. Four whole villages have been destroyed, and Dubgood, Jamalapar and Orane have disappeared entirely, having been completely engulfed in the awful convulsions. During continuance of the shocks sulphurous dust was sent forth, impregnating the atmosphere, and at the same time volumes of hot water issued from a great fissure made in the earth. Fort Guraio and granaries in many parts of the valley have been swallowed up. A large supply of rice and a considerable amount of money have been distributed throughout the valley of Cashmere to relieve the distress of the people. It is estimated that 200 persons have been killed.

LONDON, June 8.—Earthquake shocks at Serenagar and other points in the Vale of Cashmere continue at intervals, averaging three hours in length. Whole villages have been engulfed. Terrible subterranean noises are heard, driving the people frantic with fear. The horrors of an approaching famine are added to the other results of the disaster, as many thousand bushels of grain in storage have been swallowed up.

EGYPT.

LONDON, June 8.—The Mahdi has issued a proclamation, which has been extensively circulated in the countries bordering upon the Persian gulf, stating it to be his intention to invade both Egypt and Arabia.

LONDON, June 8.—The French man-of-war Renard, with a crew of ninety-two souls, is believed to have foundered in the Red sea.

TURKEY.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 8.—Three hundred houses, fifty shops and three mosques in the Stamboul quarter of this city were destroyed by fire yesterday. One person was killed and many were injured.

Mr. White, the ad interim minister at Constantinople, is negotiating for the consent of the sultan for the establisment of a permanent British garrison at Alexandria. If the porte assents the evacuation of Egypt will be quickened. The aim of the English policy is to obtain security against the possibility of occupation by any other power after the English leave, and to maintain English dominance in Egypt and the Soudan.

The Turkish government has sent 17,000 troops to Salonica, on account of the threatening attitude of Russia on the Bulgarian frontier.

GERMANY AND ZANZIBAR.

BERLIN, June 8.—Admiral Paschen has been appointed to the command of the Zanzibar squadron, in place of Admiral Knorr.

It is rumored that England has recalled Consul Kirk, on complaint of Germany that he was engaged in inciting the sultan of Zanzibar against Germany.

The Zeitung says peace has been restored in the Cameroons country, the German Captain Bendiman and the English Captain Young having fixed the frontiers.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, June 8.—Gas, which generated in the coal bunkers of the British iron turret ship Inflexible, lying at anchor off Portsmouth, exploded to-day. Fifteen of the crew are severely injured, three of them fatally. The vessel itself was somewhat damaged.

A mass meeting, attended by over 4000 people, was held in London this afternoon to denounce the action of Mr. Childers, chancellor of the exchequer, in increasing the duties of beer and spirits.

CANADA.

MONTREAL, June 8.—The CorpusChristi procession yesterday was the largest ever seen in this city, ten thousand persons taking part in it. While passing along St. Peter's street the Salvation Army, which was also parading, turned into the street to reach Mechanics' hall. The crowd watching the Catholic procession savagely attacked the Salvationists, bruising some of them badly. Had it not been for priests and other persons in the Corpus Christi procession using their efforts in restoring order, a number of lives would have been lost.

ADEN.

A Heavy Cyclone--Damage to Government Property.

ADEN, June 2.—The latest reports of the damage done by the cyclone show it to have been the most disastrous which has ever visited this region, at least since the British occupation in 1839. The wind destroyed nearly every bungalow (or cottage) in Aden. The iron roof over the Government shed on the jetty was blown away. Great damage was done the shipping at anchor in the port. Many barges were sunk, and a number steam launches and men-of-war boats were driven ashore. The men-of-war Turquoise and Reindeer were driven by the force of the wind so hard that they broke their moorings, and narrowly escaped being wrecked. The steamers which arrived since the subsidence of the cyclone nearly all report the loss of boats and other equipments. Eastern telegraph lines are all broken.

The Ventriloquist and the Pig.

At Macon fair, Comte, the ventriloquist, saw a countrywoman driving a pig before her, which could hardly move, so laden was it with fat. "What's the price of your pig, my good woman?" "A hundred francs, my good looking gentleman, at your service, if you wish to buy." "Of course, I wish to buy, but it is a great deal too much, I can offer you ten crowns." "I want one hundred francs, no more no less; take it or leave it." "Stay," said Comte, approaching the animal, "I am sure your pig is more reasonable than you. Tell me, on your conscience, my fine fellow, are you worth one hundred sous." "I am measled, and my mistress is trying to take you in." The crowd that had assembled around the woman and pig fell back in terror, fancying them both bewitched, while Comte returned to his hotel where the story was told him with sundry additions, and he learned that some courageous persons had gone up to the woman, begged her to be exorcised, and thus drive the wicked spirit out of the pig.

A Venerable Orange Tree.

There is a remarkable tree in the famous park at Versailles. During the winter it is housed in the splendid "Orangerie," and in summer is placed in the gardens behind the palace. It has now attained an age of 473 years, for it was planted in the year 1411 at Pamplona, in Navarre, and its branches are so wide spread that they require to be held in position by steel rods and wire ropes. In the spring of the year 1500, this giant of its species was presented to Louis XII., the "father of his people," as he was surnamed by his grateful subjects. It was the first time an orange tree had ever appeared in France, and its appearance created so great a sensation that crowds flocked to see it as it passed along the road, and in such numbers that French chroniclers refer to the arrival of the first orange-tree as a memorable event in history. It is generally called "the great Bourbon," and is covered every year with flowers and fruit in thousands.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

LAKE HILL.—Mr. Ralph, C. E., has completed the subdividing and marking of the corner posts of this valuable estate, and the property will soon be placed upon the market at private sale on exceptionally favorable terms; a most advantageous view of the land, together with the adjoining estates, Swan Lake and Victoria can be had from Lake Hill heights which are easy of access; prices of each plot of about five acres will be given upon application after the 30th April. Subdivision maps can be seen at our office. District maps of the location can be had on application.

J. P. DAVIES & Co.

BUT ONE OPINION prevails throughout the world, and that is so strongly in favor of Perry Davis' Pain Killer, that no other article ever attained so wide spread popularity.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Forewarned

of danger by the condition of your blood, as shown in pimples, blotches, boils, or discolorations of the skin; or by a feeling of languor, induced, perhaps, by inactivity of the stomach, liver, and kidneys, you should take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It will renew and invigorate your blood, and cause the vital organs to properly perform their functions. If you suffer from or Neuralgia, a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla will relieve and cure you. Alice Kendall, 218 Tremont st., Boston, Mass., writes: "I have been troubled with Neuralgia, pain in the side, and weakness, and have found greater relief from Ayer's Sarsaparilla than from any other remedy." J. C. Tolman, 336 Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass., writes: "In no other remedy have I ever found such a happy relief from Rheumatism as in with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, there need be no fear of Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Eczema, Catarrh, Liver troubles, or any of the diseases arising from Scrofulous taints in the blood. Geo. Garwood, Big Springs, Ohio, writes: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has been used in my family for a number of years. I was a constant sufferer from but Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected a permanent cure. Seven years ago my wife was troubled with Goitre: two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured her, and she has never had any return of the disease. I regard this preparation as the best medicine in use for the blood." B. Barnard Wair, 75 Adams st., Lynn, Mass., writes: "For many years I suffered terribly from Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Scrofula. Almost hopeless, I took Ayer's Sar-

THE ENDING OF THE SCARE.

The Glasgow News in reviewing the Anglo-Russian misunderstanding boldly asserts that ministers have simply used the Russian advance upon Afghanistan as a convenient pretext for getting up a commotion to cover their blunders in Egypt. They have pushed a sham dispute as near to war as they dared in order to get, under cover of preparations to fight Russia, the money required to pay for the hideous folly of the successive expeditions to the Soudan. They never had the smallest intention of fighting for India. They never meant to stand out for Penjdeh, or Herat, or anything else that the Russians may see fit to covet, they only made believe that now, at last, the most pacific of ministries would fight, with a united nation at its back in order that they might cozen the poor, befooled nation of its money. When Mr. Gladstone made his speech asking for eleven millions, and talking grandly about the "solemn covenant" that had been broken, and the unalterable resolution of the British government to insist upon reparation, the whole surrender was already practically complete. The ministry knew that they would not use the money for the purposes they named, and that they would have to use a great deal of it for purposes about which they are anxious to say as little as possible. That fervid appeal to patriotism, that religious solemnity of diction, that labored argument for power to apply elsewhere the money voted for the Soudan constituted nothing more than an unusually impudent mockery of a docile house of commons. The whole thing was a piece of conscious hypocrisy, an elaborately got-up farce, in which every sentiment and every interest that a minister ought to treat with respect was unscrupulously pressed into the service of an attempt to get money under false pretences. Someone has said that the first requisite of an orator is a profound contempt for his audience. How profoundly Mr. Gladstone despises the house of commons may be guessed from the audacious way in which he befools it, and how well his contempt is deserved we may infer from the untiring fidelity with which after each deception the house returns to listen with bated breath and whispering humbleness to the next piece of bunkum which it suits Mr. Gladstone's private ends to manufacture. We are bound to say that we are glad there is not to be war. The peace is disgraceful, humiliating, damaging, and fraught with deplorable consequences; but bad as it is, we must hold it better than war under the auspices of the present ministry. That would certainly end in something more disgraceful, more humiliating, more damaging, and more heavily fraught with future peril. The leopard does not change his spots merely because he has to deal with a more formidable hunter than usual. The men who have cringed before the Boers, who have eaten the leek at the bidding of Prince Bismarck, who have eaten more leeks at the bidding of a mushroom French ministry, who have spent millions in Egypt, only in purchasing dishonor to us and increase of misery for the hapless Egyptians—these men are not likely to display courage or the highest energy, determination, and political wisdom, merely because they blunder into a quarrel with Russia. Private negotiations have already guaranteed Russia her conquests, and as for arbitration, it seems that Russia only assented to it in general terms, and that now that the details are being discussed, it appears that Russia will only allow it to proceed upon condition that the issue is so stated and the evidence so arranged that there will remain in the issues and the arguments nothing that could allow an honest arbitrator to decide against her. Not only is this known to be so, but it is also certain that the Russians will shortly make themselves actual masters of Meshed and the North of Persia, which will give them an alternative route upon which a large army will find ample supplies of every description. We, on the other hand, are 500 miles away, and with very little prospect of getting any nearer. From Herat to St. Petersburg it is all Russia, but from Herat to the frontier of India the country is in the hands of a power which is not England, and cannot be depended upon to take England's side. Hence, in any struggle at Herat Russia would have the enormous advantage of being at home, while we should be 500 miles from our base, and separated from it by the most fickle and treacherous of races.

THE COERCION POLICY.

The British cabinet is drifting helplessly. Dilke, Chamberlain, Childers and Shaw Lefevre firmly insist upon the limitation of the Crimes Act to one year. Gladstone, Earl Spencer, Trevelyan and Harcourt refuse to budge an inch to mollify their radical associates. Dilke visited Dublin castle, and Earl Spencer used his strongest arguments to induce him to consent to coercion and failed. The Marquis of Hartington afterwards went to the castle. Earl Spencer plied him with the same arguments he had used upon Sir Charles Dilke, and then hopefully asked him what he intended to say to his friends in the north regarding the absorbing question of coercion. "Not a word," replied the marquis. He reasoned that being from England, and personally uninterested in the matter, he should not be expected to discuss the coercion question, but should leave that to local speakers. He was assured, however, that would never do; that as a cabinet minister a policy of silence was impossible for him, and that to evade the one question that was paramount in Irish politics would be to virtually declare himself on the side of the nationalists. Then he fell ill with a bad cold and symptoms of intermittent fever. Tha latest advices are that he will probably be quite well enough to attend the special meeting of the cabinet, which is to be held to finally decide upon the provisions of the coercion measure.

THE PALL MALL GAZETTE.

For some time the belief has been growing in London that the radical newspaper called the Pall Mall Gazette is in the pay of Russia. Its strong pro-Russian articles can be accounted for on no other hypothesis than that its staff has been hired to cultivate a Russian sentiment in England. The paper is undeniably able; it is also widely circulated; hence it is all the more likely to do harm by lulling the British public into a feeling of false security as to Russia's real designs on the Indian empire. Last night's dispatches attribute a threatening and impudent article directed at Earl Granville to M. Lessar, the Russian boundary commissioner, who is now in London, because of his alleged dilatoriness in settling the details of the Anglo-Russian agreement. Things have come to a pretty pass in England when a London journal can sell its influence to a foreign government with which Great Britain is on the verge of becoming embroiled without drawing down upon its head the universal condemnation of the public. Many years ago the London Morning Chronicle sold itself to Napoleon III., at a time when the relations between France and Great Britain were strained, and it was speedily boycotted and ruined. A similar fate should overtake the Gazette. If it desires to speak for the Russian government it should do it in St. Petersburg, not in London.

Privilege Re Fell.

TO THE EDITOR:—One cannot but be astonished at reading the report of the proceedings of the city school trustees on the 4th inst. and inquiring seriously to what are we tending?

1st. The language imputed to have been used by Mr. Fell respecting his colleagues—"scamps, villains or vagabonds"—is bad. The parties attacked can and will, if I mistake not, repel such language.

2d. The statement by Mr. Fell respecting the female worshippers of the Methodist Church is worse. Have the females so slanderously attacked no relatives or friends to thrust back, with compound interest, such outrageous slanders.

3d. The climax is reached by the reviling by Mr. Fell of the Virgin Mary, and his conclusions thereon, together with his other blasphemous ravings of a like nature. Together, they proclaim him as a fit subject for the lunatic asylum at Westminster.

Why, sir, such utterances should be—in the cause of morality—stamped upon at once and the perpetrator shunned as a moral skunk.

How does it happen that a man holding such sentiments as Mr. Fell can hold the responsible position of school director of Victoria? Surely he will, for the future, be elected to remain at home. I suppose he has the disease prevalent among petty politicians now-a-days, called a swelled head.

I saw Mr. Fell some few days ago near Esquimalt, and his appearance and manners brought to my recollection the following story: A certain southern planter, previous to the late troubles, was invited to a ball and after fixing up for the occasion called his servant Sambo and asked him how he looked. Sambo rolled is eyes, and declared he looked fine! grand! all the same as a lion!! "Why," said his gaatified master, "Sambo, you never saw a lion." "Oh, yes, master, I have often," was the reply. "Well, tell me when and where you ever saw a lion." "Why," said Sambo, "I saw a lion in a cart. He has long ears and when he roars, he says, "he haw!" "he haw." "Why," said his enraged master, "You dod-rotted old flabbergasted fool, that was an ass!" "Can't help dat," said Sambo, "You look exactly like him!!" Mr. Fell fills the bill exactly. I will close by forwarding an epitaph suitable to the occasion for Mr. Fell to be engraved on a piece of brass plate.

"Here lies James Fell! sure that's enough!
His candle's out, but here's the snuff.
His soul has flown, the Lord knows where,
But what the Devil has left, lies here."

AN APACHE.

ESQUIMALT, June 5, 1885.

The Standard "Rats."

TO THE EDITOR:—A paragraph appeared in yesterday's Standard to the effect that the union printers had been discharged and non-union men put in their places. This is a very misleading statement, and calls for correction in justice to workmen, and there are many such, who, though never having belonged to a trades union, are yet honorable and upright men and respected by union workmen; but the staff the Standard has replaced its union men with are not such and, that upright non-union men should be distinguished from such men as the present Standard staff is composed of, printers, generations ago, invented and applied the term "Rats."

The following definitions of non-union men and "Rats" are from an address to non-union printers by Mark L. Crawford, chief organizer of the International Typographical Union, and appears weekly in our official organ The Craftsman:

"Non-union men—Men who have never worked where a union existed, and, as a consequence, never had an opportunity to join them; also, those who have gone to work where unions existed, or been inveigled into doing so, without any knowledge of unions or unionism.

"'Rats'—Creatures without honor or manhood—tools of unscrupulous employers, schemers, conniving, disreputable characters whose very presence tends to contaminate and degrade." ED. A. POAT,

BIG BEAR PURSUED AND DEFEATED.

No Signs of the Prisoners.

Gen. Middleton Says He will Not Return Without Them.

FORT PITT, June 4.—Captain Steele, with seventy mounted scouts and police had an engagement with Big Bear at Two Lakes, fifty miles southeast of here yesterday. We came upon the Indians at 9 o'clock in the morning, just as they were striking camp and immediately attacked them. Finding their front too strong Captain Steele executed a clever flanking movement by taking the Indians in the rear and driving them in disorder across a small creek, where he was unable to follow on account of his small force. The Indians numbered fully 250. We saw no signs of the prisoners. During the fight Steele sent interpreter McKee with a flag of truce. He advanced, but was fired on. He got near enough to be heard and called out to Big Bear, in Indian, who replied indistinctly. McKee said, "If you will deliver our people we will cease firing." The Indian replied, "we intend to clean you out." Steele's loss was three wounded.

Gen. Middleton, before leaving, said he would not return until all Big Bear's prisoners were rescued.

Defeat of the Gladstone Ministry.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, June 8.—Labouchere, radical, this afternoon in the house of commons gave notice of his intention to oppose the proposed parliamentary grant of £30,000 per annum as a dowery to Princess Beatrice on occasion of her marriage.

The Pall Mall Gazette contains an article which is apparently inspired by M. Lessar of the Russian section of the Afghan boundary commission. The article admits that the settlement of matters in dispute with Russia is still unsigned, and attributes the present delay to the hair-splitting or quibbling of Granville. The article is in a tone more in anger than firmness, and warns the earl not to carry his dilatory game too far or it might become dangerous.

In the house of commons after Childers' statement touching the spirits tax, Mr. Childers had no sooner done explaining the government's reason for not at present refunding the tax than the Rt. Hon. Sir Michael Edward Hicks Beach, conservative, arose quickly and asked why it was that a liberal government which ought to be economical had to resort to extreme forms of taxation in order to meet an extraordinary expenditure of 100,000,000 pounds by Gen. Sir Peter Lumsden.

Mr. Cross informed the house that Sir Peter, since his arrival in London, had disavowed any intention to attack the government and did not consider himself responsible for incorrectly reported utterances attributed to him by journalists inclined to misrepresent him.

Childers moved the second reading of the budget and in his supporting speech explained that the total increase in the beer and spirits duties England pays seven-ninths; Scotland, one-ninth, and Ireland one-ninth. Sir Chas. Dilke supported the budget. He said that tea was already taxed enough and a further tax on wines would not be very productive and would injure colonial trade. This question was greeted with cheers from the tory benches. Sir Michael went on and denounced the increased duty on spirits. He said the receipts from spirits were already decreasing; he thought a small increase in duty on tea would have been wiser and much more profitable. The government, he continued, should have raised the duty on wine because wine was no more a necessity to life than beer or spirits. Sir Michael concluded by moving that the proposed increase duty on beer and spirits was inequitable in the absence of a corresponding addition to duties on wine. Jno. K. Cross, under secretary for India, spoke for the government in answer to a number of questions concerning attacks reported to have been made on the government. Sir Stafford Northcote and others having spoken, Mr. Gladstone arose to reply. He thought the opposition were creating a precedent which they would regret when they came into power again. The present wine duty had a beneficial effect, in preventing adulteration and increasing trade many millions annually. It would be impolitic to increase the duty on wine unless on most extreme pressure. The government were compelled to raise money, in view of impending danger to the empire, danger which even now he was unable to say had passed away. The opposition cavilled at the mode of raising money without suggesting an alternative. Tea would require an additional tax of 3 per cent per pound to produce the same amount, thus raising the duty 75 per cent on an innocent beverage. The government had to choose between alcoholic liquors and tea and sugar. They would accept the issue of the vote as one of life or death, and did not envy those who, if they gained a victory, would have to bear the consequences.

Mr. Gladstone's remarks were received with prolonged cheers

The government was defeated on the second reading of the budget, it being rejected by a vote of 264 to 252. When the result was announced, Lord Randolph Churchill and Mr Parnell jumped upon their seats and enthusiastically waved their hats, and cheering was renewed. Thirty nine Parnellites and all conservatives voted with the majority. The minority included Sir Chas. Bass, brewer, and several Irish liberals. Although strong whips had been issued many government supporters were absent.

Following is another account of the scenes in the house of commons after the division: When the result of the division was announced Gladstone, who had been leaning forward in his seat and cynically smiling started, turned pale and clutched his hands nervously together. The house immediately became a babel of confusion, members yelling, stamping and waving hats, neckties and handkerchiefs. A tumultuous cheer came from the galleries, and Speaker Peel vainly howled for order. The Parnellites pointed at Gladstone and yelled "That is the price of coercion;" "Down with Buckshot Forster;" "Remember Myles Joyce." Mr. Gladstone arose to move an adjournment, but stood in his place fully a minute before he could be heard. It is confidently rumored that Gladstone will visit the Queen and tender his resignation to-morrow.

AMERICAN NEWS.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—An examination of the Washington monument this morning confirms the report that the capstone has been shattered by lightning. The break was made by the lightning on the northeast corner of the capstone, and four fragments fell to the ground, where they were found to-day, nearly forty feet from the base of the monument.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The secretary of state has received a dispatch from the consul general at London, saying that there is no foundation for the rumor of an outbreak of cholera in England.

MEXICO.

GUYMAS, June 8.—News was received here last night of the appearance of a band of twenty Apaches near Nacosere, where they brutally murdered and mutilated three Americans, employed at a mine eight miles from that place. The names of the murdered miners are Peter Palmer, Peter McCurtain and A. J. Hartington. The report also states that several Mexicans were murdered.

SOUTHERN STATES.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., June 8.—At 12 o'clock last night a fire broke out in the right wing of a building of the eastern lunatic asylum, and before it could be got under control everything was destroyed. The buildings burned comprise the original ones of the institution, and were erected over one hundred years ago. There were 200 female patients in the burning building, but all of them were rescued except one. The total loss is estimated at from $120,000 to $140,000; insurance, about $140,000. The fire is believed to have resulted from trouble with the electric light wires.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—The will of D. T. Murphy, senior member of the firm of Murphy, Grant & Co., who died at the Windsor hotel, New York, last week, was filed in the probate court to-day. Eugene Kelly and Edward C. Donahoe are named as executors in New York, where much of his property is located.

COLORADO.

DENVER, June 8.—Congressman Symes to-day received a telegram from citizens of La Plata county, Colorado, in which it is stated that the southern Ute Indians of the reservation in great numbers threaten to prevent stockmen from rounding up cattle on the ranges. The message says the Utes are moving westward, and danger to lives and property is imminent. The citizens implore the government to send instant relief. Judge Symes forwarded this message to the president this evening, and asks that troops from Fort Lewis be sent at once to the scene of danger. It says that unless prompt protection is afforded the frightful holocost of New Mexico will be repeated on the soil of Colorado.

CANADIAN NEWS.

TORONTO, June 8.—Rev. Jno. Ely preached in the Metropolitan Church last night During the course of his remarks he referred to the conflicts of ancient and modern times, and said he did not think there would ever be another conflict between Anglo Saxons, though the United States might have to fight to uproot mormonism.

HORSE ITEMS.

Horses that Wouldn't Go and Riders who Did Go.

A local amateur speculator heard that there was big money in buying and selling horses, and thought as he had once lived near a stock farm it was just the business he wanted. He arranged to buy a quiet saddle-horse from an Oregon "tenderfoot," and on Saturday one of that description came over for him. The animal walked to a stable in the rear of the Fashion stables very quietly, and Mac looked at him lovingly, thinking there was "millions in it." After a drink, a young man of color put a bridle on the horse and tried to ride him. The animal made a few rapid strides down the yard and suddenly stopped, and the rider left its back and glided over the fence into the next lot. Nothing daunted he crawled through a hole and again mounted the horse. This time the animal attempted to stand on two legs, first the hind and then the fore, and at last succeeded in sending its rider on the top of a shed. He was satisfied. Sunday afternoon the owner thought he would air him, and tying a 20-foot rope around its neck led him into the yard. "Get around, boy," and other endearing expressions were used, and the animal did "get around" in a lively manner, his instructor being dragged to the earth and the horse using him generally as a yard scraper. After dragging him over a pile of lumber and a refuse heap the owner let go and the horse walked into its stable. Having his clothes brushed a little he went home and changed his toilet Yesterday morning another man attempted to keep on the horse's back, and after nearly cancelling his insurance policy a couple of times, the horse started up Fort street with its rider and neither have been heard of since, and the owner of the animal hopes he never will. He thinks he is not adapted for a horse-trader

A young man, whose first name is Garnet, took a 4.50 horse and buggy out on Sunday afternoon and drove to Esquimalt, where he tied the animal in the driving shed and went on board the Constance on a tour of inspection. Returning after this was accomplished he untied the horse and asked him to "back" but the animal, like many an umbrella, did not "go back." After hauling his head this way and that, he called on two blue jackets to help him out. They used very persuasive language, but he wouldn't stir, they got hold of the hind part of the buggy and all three pulled, but the horse clinched his teeth and his feet and wouldn't move. Then they tried the novel experiment of lifting him off his feet and carrying him out. They got him partly in the air and he fell over on his side, when of course they had hard work to get him on his feet again, and prevent the breaking of the shaft. At last a force of about a dozen got hold of buggy and horse and they succeeded in dragging him to the road. Garnet says he likes a horse that has some "go" in him.

On Sunday night while Dr. Taylor was driving home from visiting a country patient his horse shied, nearly precipitating everything into the ditch. He then sprang around, breaking the shaft, but luckily standing still. The damage was temporarily repaired, and the doctor got home safe.

Dr. Praeger wrs thrown from a buggy yesterday while out driving with J. Lascelles, who had a spirited young horse in the buggy. He escaped with a severe shaking up, and a bruise on the knees.

Mr. Jos. Hunter, C. E., was thrown from his horse on Sunday afternoon on Blanchard street, vaulting over the animal's head. Fortunately he escaped without injury.

Ex-Councillor M. W. Gibbs.

A late number of a Little Rock (Arkansas) newspaper contains a portrait of M. W. Gibbs, junior partner of the pioneer firm of Lester & Gibbs, of this city (Mr. Peter Lester being the senior), a former city councillor of Victoria. Mr. Gibbs has prospered since leaving Victoria, and is a wealthy citizen of Little Rock and a prominent federal officer. The Arkansas paper gives the following sketch of Mr. Gibbs' career:

As evidence of the success of the colored man, when favored with education, Judge M. W. Gibbs, of Little Rock, is a worthy example. He is a useful citizen and property owner. The colored people find in him a pattern, and if they would succeed they have the way blazed by their worthy fellow-citizen. The story of his life reads like a romance, and through it all runs a thread of honor and integrity. He is a native of Philadelphia, born in 1828, but went to California in 1850, where two years later he established the boot and shoe business under the firm name of Lester & Gibbs. The prices then were ruling high, his business prospered and he soon became wealthy. He was the leader among the colored men in California who refused to pay the poll tax levied by the state law upon disfranchised colored men. His store was seized by the officers and the stock advertised to be sold at auction. So prominent was he, and so highly was he esteemed, that not a man could be found to bid for the goods, and they were returned. Popular sentiment was on his side and the odious law was soon repealed. In 1858 he went to Vancouver's Island, where he erected the second mercantile house outside of the forts of the Hudson Bay Company. His business prospered, and in 1866 he was alderman in the Victoria council representing the wealthiest ward in the city. In 1867 he built a railroad, wharfs, etc., for an English coal company on Queen Charlotte Island, completing his contract on time and to the letter. A year or two later he returned to the United States, settled at Oberlin, Ohio, where he graduated in the law department in 1870. After this he made a tour of the southern states, spending some time in Florida, the guest of his brother, the late J. C. Gibbs, then secretary of state. A careful examination of the several states led to his selecting Little Rock as his home. When he came here he was almost unknown to our people, but he entered the law office of Benjamin & Barnes, and was shortly efter admitted to the bar. A year later he became attorney for this county, which position he resigned in 1873 and was elected police judge of the city—the first colored man elected to such a position in the United States. In 1872 he was a delegate to the national convention of colored men at New Orleans, in 1875 a delegate to the newspaper convention of colored men at Cincinnati, and in the same year was president of the national convention of colored men at Nashville, Tenn. In 1876 he ran as presidential elector on the republican ticket, and the same year was appointed register of the United States land office by President Hayes, to which office he was re appointed by President Arthur in 1881. He is an extensive property-owner, a member of the Electric Light Company, and devotes a large portion of his time to the advancement of the people of his race.

Personal.

We notice among the passengers by the Queen of the Pacific, the Rev. A. L. Brown, of California, principal of St. Matthew's military college, who is on a vacation excursion to Alaska. Several of his pupils were also on board, among them a son of ex governor Perkins, of California, also cadet John Bowker, of Victoria. Master Bowker has attained a high record for scholarship and deportment, taking the governor Perkins' gold medal for highest standing in the department. The school, we learn, maintains its high standing for training and scholarship.

Mr. W. T. Arthurs, representing R. G. Dunn & Co., of Portland, is in the city.

Miss K. Elliott, assistant in the girls' high school, San Francisco, is visiting friends here.

Mr. W. Halpenny, government guide, will leave again for Alberni, district on Wednesday morning. Intending settlers should be prepared to accompany him.

British bark Minstrel King, from Victoria, arrived April 21st at Montevideo, and sailed, April 27th, for Buenos Ayres.

Who May Vote.

Section 23, Public School Act, 1885, says:—"Any person registered as a voter as hereinafter provided shall be eligible to vote at any school meeting held in such district, and in the ward in which he is registered for the election of trustees; provided, always, that it shall not be lawful for any person to vote for trustees in more than one ward in any city school district."

OBITUARY.—It is with sincere regret that the death of one of Victoria's most esteemed residents is chronicled. The deceased lady, Mrs. C. N. Cameron, and daughter of Mr. Joseph Gosnell, passed quietly away at 10 a. m. yesterday at her residence on James Bay. The immediate cause of her death was hemorrhage; and we understand she had been in good health to within a few moments of her lamented demise. Her loss will be severely felt, not only by her sorrowing husband and children, but by the community; she having lived here all her life, and having always been a general favorite with all who had the happy privilege of her acquaintance. This is one of the saddest occurrences we have had to record for a long time.

CONCERT COMPANY.—The Clara Louise Kellogg Concert Company will visit Victoria during the summer or early in the fall, and are anxious to make dates at the new theatre. The company will be under the management of Major J. B. Pond.

NEWS FROM THE ARCTIC.

The Corwin Puts Back Disabled and the Bark Rainbow Crushed in the Ice.

The United States steamer Corwin, which sailed from San Francisco April 29th for a cruise in the Arctic, broke her crank-pin on May 14th, when steaming from Ounalaska to the Island of Atton and was compelled to return under sail to San Francisco. On May 9th Francis Macauley, seaman, fell overboard and was drowned. He was aged 22 and a native of county Antrim, Ireland. The Corwin reports that the whaling bark Rainbow, Capt. Cogan, was crushed in the ice near Cape Naverin in the middle of April last, and sank in fifteen minutes, a total loss. Her crew was picked up and divided among the other vessels of the fleet. The bark Atlantic, Capt. Gregory, arrived at Ounalaska on May 15th, leaking badly from having been jammed in the ice. Neither of these vessels had any oil. The Atlantic went on the beach for repairs. Much difficulty has been encountered on account of the unusual quantity of ice this season. The old whalers say that the ice is further to the southward this year than ever known before. No northern or bowhead whale has as yet been taken. Capt. Gregory saw the larger portion of the whaling fleet within ten days before receiving the injuries to his ship. The Corwin will at once repair and return north.

No information in addition to the foregoing reference to the loss of the Rainbow had been received by the San Francisco agents of the vessel. The Rainbow left San Francisco last December for a whaling voyage to the Arctic, under command of Capt. B. Cogan. She had a crew of about 36 men. It is probable that she was insured.

The Pool, Goldstream.

On Sunday Mrs. James Langley visited the Pool, Goldstream, with a number of lady and gentlemen friends, and while gazing into the clear depths of that pretty piece of water missed her footing and fell in. Fortunately Mrs. Langley's son, Deputy-Sheriff Langley, was not far distant, and being an expert swimmer, he dashed into the pool and brought his mother ashore when she was about to sink for the last time. But for this prompt action it is thought that Mrs. Langley would have been drowned. Yesterday the lady had quite recovered from the effects of the accident. About five years ago a man who entered the pool for a swim was drowned before the eyes of his companions.

Repairs to Pianos.

Mr. Oliver H. Goodwin, lately foreman of the largest piano factory on the Pacific coast, has returned to the city after an absence of some seven years, and is prepared to undertake the tuning, regulating or repairing of pianos. All work guaranteed. Orders may be left at the store of M. W. Waitt & Co. *

ROYAL HOSPITAL.—The directors of the royal hospital have resolved to reduce current expenditure by calling for tenders for supplies in whole or unbroken packages, by which the wholesale dealer as well as the retailer can legitimately compete. The competition should be keen as the move will be the means of a very considerable reduction in the monthly bills of that worthy institution. Specifications can be seen at the office of Messrs. J. Annual School Meeting.

The annual school meeting of the trustees took place yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in the city hall. Present—Chairman Harris; secretary, C. Hayward; trustees, Messrs. Fell, Chambers and Robertson.

Upon the meeting being called to order it was proposed by Mr. Chambers that the report of the last annual meeting be read.

The secretary accordingly did so.

The adoption of this report was seconded by Mr. Fell, and unanimously carried.

The report for the present year was then read by the secretary, as follows:

REPORT.

VICTORIA, June 4, 1885.

To the Electors of Victoria School District: Ladies and Gentlemen—The trustees, in presenting their annual report, have pleasure in congratulating the ratepayers on the increasing interest manifested by them in the welfare of the schools, which augers well for the future prosperity and successful management of the schools.

The school act of 1884, giving six trustees to city districts, and its amending act of 1885, making a higher franchise and regulating the elections, is a step in the right direction, and will, we hope, result in securing earnest and energetic men as trustees, who will maintain our admirable free schools in the highest possible state of efficiency.

The progress of the pupils during the year has been of a satisfactory character, and the approaching examination will, we believe, justify our sanguine expectation.

The numbers attending show a gratifying increase over the same period of last year of 109. The total number now on the roll is:

Boys	634
Girls	487
Total	1121

At the commencement of our term of office the following promotions and appointments were made:

HIGH SCHOOL.

Mr. J. N. Muir, B. A., principal.
Mr. R. Offerhaus, 2d master.

BOYS SCHOOL.

Mr. J. A. Halliday, principal.
Mr. J. Thain, 1st assistant.
Mr. A. Dods, 2d assistant.
Miss Annie Gowen, 3d assistant.
Miss Emily J. Gardiner, 4th assistant.
Miss Lucretia Horton, 5th assistant.
Miss Christina Forrest, 6th assistant.

GIRLS SCHOOL.

Miss E. A. Williams, Principal.
Mrs. L. M. Caldwell, 1st assistant.
Mrs. Reid, 2d assistant.
Miss Agnes Cameron, 3d assistant.
Miss Mary Williams, 4th assistant.
Miss L. A. Barron, 5th assistant.

JAMES BAY WARD SCHOOL.

Miss M. V. Storey, teacher.

JOHNSON STREET WARD SCHOOL.

Miss Harriet Jackson, teacher.

SALARIES.

Total salaries per month, $1,205.

We believe (with one or two exceptions) that this staff is as good as can be procured in the province, and we have pleasure in bearing witness to their desire to do all in their power to advance the education and moral interests of their pupils.

During the year the Johnson Street Ward School has been opened, and Miss Jackson appointed teacher. This school as well as the James Bay Ward School, under Miss Storey's charge, are doing very well, the average daily attendance at Johnson street school being 77 and at James Bay school 68.

With regard to the $5,000 voted by the provincial parliament at its last session for providing increased school accommodation, the trustees have recommended that it be expended in providing a separate high school building and which is now receiving the attention of the government.

During the year the sum of $118 50 was collected for school prizes which was cheerfully contributed by the leading storekeepers and others This amount has all been expended with the exception of $6.17. There are outstanding debts on this account amounting to $55.00, which is proposed to be liquidated by a concert to be given on the 27th instant, as well as for providing funds for prizes at the next public examination.

The trustees now surrender to you the trust confided to them at the last election and hope that every voter will consider it to be his or her duty to be present at the elections next week to select fit and proper persons to discharge the onerous and important duties devolving on the guardians of the educational interests of the coming race. On behalf of the board of trustees. CHAS. HAYWARD, Secretary.

Its adoption was moved by Mr. Fell, seconded by Mr. Chambers, and carried without a dissenting voice.

Mr. Robertson, who is about severing his connection with the school board, called attention to the injurious system of cramming now taking place at one of the schools and complained of the scholars having altogether too much home work. He also hinted that a reform in the teaching staff was necessary.

Mr Fell also took up this theme, and called attention to the fallacy of the system of punishment now in vogue, which consists of giving the offending scholars so many hundred lines to write in addition to their regular home lessons. He pointed out that in their hurry to complete these extra tasks it forced bad writing upon them and suggested that some sensible and more desirable exercises should be alloted them. However, this subject did not take the form of a motion.

Considerable discussion then took place as to the loss of registration papers by one of the sheriff's clerks; and it was moved by Mr. Higgins that legal opinion be taken as to the voters being allowed the use of their franchise, whose registration papers have been lost, upon making an affidavit of that fact.

Mr. Fell objected to this motion; but as it was the wish of the meeting to have it carried, it was seconded by Mr. Powell and carried, Mr. Fell's being the only dissenting vote.

A vote of thanks to retiring officers and trustees was then moved by Mr. Powell, seconded by Mr. Higgins, and carried.

This vote was acknowledged by Mr. Robertson who assured the meeting that the present school board had always had the cause and furtherance of education at heart, and had always worked in its interest; he advised the incoming board to hold aloof from all sectarian, family and political factions as the only means of executing their trust to the public's satisfaction.

The chairman then returned thanks for the hearty co-operation he had always received from officers and trustees composing the present board, and the meeting then adjourned.

CURIOS FOR BERLIN.

A Distinguished Traveler in Victoria.

He Wintered at Vladivostock,

And Describes that Place to a Reporter.

There is in town a representative of the Royal Berlin Ethnological Museum, who intends purchasing all and everything interesting to his society that can be procured in this province.

Captain J. Adrian Jacobson, the enterprising purchasing agent alluded to, left Berlin in May, 1884, and first turned his attention to the Volga. He traveled up that river, purchasing curios wherever he could procure them, until he arrived at Siberia. He journeyed through Siberia to the Mongolian frontier, and from thence to the Baikal sea. Here he crossed the mountains, purchased a boat, and, accompanied by a guide, traveled purchasing from the Goldi Giljalp and Orotschenmen tribes, all of which inhabit southeastern Siberia, and from there to Saghalin island, where the great majority of the Russian convicts are imprisoned. This island is inhabited by the Ainos, a peculiar race, who are sometimes called by travelers the "hairies," as the male population have long black hair growing all over their limbs and bodies. Here the captain succeeded in procuring a large number of ethnological specimens. After leaving this island he journeyed by dog sledges to Nicolayefsk, and after arriving there had to remain for some time, as the inhabitants were caused by the failure of the fisheries, from which source they derive their food and most other necessaries. He lost half his dogs from starvation, and proceeded across the mountains to Habarafka, and thence journeyed along the Usuri river to Vladivostock. Here he remained until the ice broke up, and so had a good opportunity of becoming acquainted with that place and its surroundings.

THE FORTIFICATIONS OF VLADIVOSTOCK

are three in number, forming three sides of a square, the open side facing the sea. The ice this year was not as thick as usual, being from one and a half to two feet in thickness. The first vessel broke its way through the ice on April 13th. At that time there were four boats lying in the harbor. They had been captured by the Russians the previous fall. Three belonged to the Japanese and one to the United States. They were taken for sealing in Russian territory on Behring and Copper islands. There were also four Russian war vessels wintering there, and immediately upon the opening of navigation three more arrived in the harbor. The inhabitants were somewhat excited over the then impending war with the British, and were preparing their forts and sinking torpedoes in the harbor. The officers in most instances sent their families away to Japanese ports.

RUSSIAN MEN-OF-WAR

A BRITISH WAR SHIP

was anchored at the mouth of the river. After leaving Vladivostock the captain traversed south into Corea, where he was fortunate in securing some good specimens. The first boat left Vladivostock on April 20th; our traveler took passage on this vessel at one of the Corean ports for Nagasaki, Japan. The roughest portion of his journey was now over, and he had already sent twelve tons of specimens to his museum. From Nagasaki he took steamer via Kalu to Kioto, and visited the

where he collected about two tons of curios, which he despatched to Berlin. He left Japan by the City of New York, and reached San Francisco on May 29th. He arrived here Saturday. It is now his intention to take a coasting vessel and calling at all likely places on the west coast of this island, until he reaches Fort Rupert, at which point he will again set sail for Tschilkat, Alaska, where he has a brother awaiting him Mr. Jacobson estimates that so far he has since leaving Berlin, and will have covered a great deal more ground before he reaches there again He speaks six languages, and scarcely finds that sufficient, considering the extent of his travels. He was here from 1881 to 1883, and collected about 8,000 specimens. After leaving here he wrote a book containing about 400 pages, profusely illustrated, which was published at Leipsic, and has enjoyed a large circulation. Upon his return to Berlin he anticipates opening a separate Indian ethnological museum, and he is also desirous of taking Indians back with him to illustrate the genus homo of this country.

THE ISLAND RAILWAY.

Satisfactory Progress on the McLellan Contract.

THE ROUTE.

The contract for the building of the Island railway from Esquimalt harbor to Shawnigan lake, a distance of twenty miles, was awarded Mr. A. J. McLellan on the 20th Feb. last, and work commenced about the 5th of March, since which time it has been energetically pushed by the contractor. This piece of road traverses a charming piece of country, the scenery being of a varied and most interesting character. Commencing on the Indian reservation on Esquimalt harbor, opposite Inskip island it crosses the Goldstream road about three-quarters of a mile further on, winds past the headwaters of Victoria arm and swings up the valley of Deadman river, crossing the divide between the latter and Millstream at Parsons bridge. The line then follows up the left bank of Millstream, crossing Colwood farm near the lime kilns, thence straight across Colwood plains to the southern end of Langford lake, whose placid waters mirror the timber and shrubs of its shores with charming effect. The railway follows the shore to its head and swings into the valley of Goldstream, crossing that stream a little below the romantic falls; thence along the side hill of Saanich arm, rising continuously until it reaches the summit at an elevation of 918 feet above the waters of the arm. The road here leaves the sea and descends into the Shawnigan valley to the head of Shawnigan lake. The picturesque scenery of Victoria arm changes into the park-like appearance of Colwood plains, thence through a stretch of woods along the lovely shores of Langford lake, and thence climbs through the forest past deep ravines, over sparkling rills, until Goldstream is reached, ever an attractive place for the tourist and pleasure seeker.

THE WORK.

At the temporary terminus the construction of a wharf was commenced yesterday. This is to facilitate the landing of supplies, plant and rolling stock. It is light work from this to where the wagon road will be crossed by a bridge above the road. Just beyond this is a heavy rock cut called "Dunsmuir's cut" 350 feet in length, partly side hill and partly thorough. At this gangs of Chinese were at work, the loose material being utilized to fill to where a small bay of Deadman's river will be crossed by a pile bridge 500 feet in length. This and the rock work will be completed about the 1st of July. At the end of the bridge is a long earth bank, built by white sub-contractors to a finished trestle bridge 600 feet in length. This is very strongly built of magnificent timber, well bolted and on a solid foundation. It is a most excellent piece of work. From this the road is graded and ready for the ties to the second crossing of the wagon road, a short distance before Parson's bridge is reached. The road will be diverted at this point to one just above the bridge so that it will not be crossed by the railway. A trestle structure 1,600 feet in length, nearly finished, crosses the valley, through Price's field to meet the grade on the opposite side. Over 400,000 feet of timber is used in this trestle. Immediately in rear of the hotel is a heavy rock cut to the depth of 21 feet, and then another piece of trestle work 1,800 feet in length. On this latter work has just been commenced. The timber is towed in scows to Parsons bridge, where it is hauled up the bank to McLellan's bridging yard, where a gang of carpenters are engaged in preparing all timber for the bridges. Another finished rock cut of 300 feet after the the last trestle brings them line to a gap of 300 feet at present being graded, after which is a trestle of 1000 feet through McKenzie's field. Another heavy rock cut which will be finished in July, and 800 feet of trestlework bring the line of railway to a nicely finished piece of grading 1600 feet in length to the bank of Millstream, which is crossed by a trestle bridge. After this is a lot of finished work, rock and sand cutting, up to nearly opposite the lime kiln, when there is another 1500 feet which will be finished in July. From this the line is ready for the rails to the south end of Langford lake, about two miles in length, comparatively light, where a good road bed has been made.

A small arm of Langford lake will be crossed by a pile bridge 500 feet in length, after which is a finished bank of 700 feet, light work. From this the work is opened for 2½ miles to Waugh's creek, and will be completed this month ready for rails. It is clay, cement and gravel to Waugh's ravine where is a small rock cutting. The wagon road has also been diverted here for a considerable distance, the new portion being well built. Waugh's ravine is crossed by a trestle and the line is graded to Goldstream. The ravine here will be crossed by a long bridge 100 feet above the stream.

ANTONELLE'S CONTRACT.

On the opposite bank begins the heaviest piece of work on the McLellan contract, which is being carried on by J. S. Antonelle, extending a distance of five miles, and consisting of heavy rock, cement and tunnel work. Three-quarters of a mile is already completed, a magnificent roadbed being made by the slate, rock and quartz taken from the cuttings. After the finished piece of work is a succession of heavy rock cuts to what is known as the "Double-headed ravine," in which are two streams, crossed by a trestle bridge 110 feet from the water. In the next mile are five heavy rock cuts which are being vigorously worked. This brings the line to the "Niagara ravine" 230 feet deep in the centre, which will be crossed by a trestle bridge. From this point to Arbutus creek are five more rock cuttings. The ravine here is 190 feet in depth and 500 feet in length. The road here ascends running along Arbutus bluff, which rises 700 feet very abruptly from the water of Saanich arm. There is some heavy rock work here also, until the only tunnel on the line is reached. This will be 190 feet in length, through a spur of the mountain projecting into the sea. Work will be begun on this tunnel immediately, and will be finished about 1st November. From the tunnel to the end of Antonelle's contract is a mile and a half, a series of rock work of a heavy nature. With the exception of this tunnel the work on this contract will be completed by about the middle of August.

An extensive plant is used to carry on the work and a large number of whites and Chinese employed. Four horses have been killed by falling over the dump. To get in supplies to Goldstream the contractor built a wagon trail up to the grade. Supplies for the other end are brought by steamer to Saanich arm and packed up the hillside to the grade.

THE END.

From Antonelle's contract is three miles of light work to the summit. From this point it descends to the head of Shawnigan lake, the end of the McLellan contract. The last three miles consist of heavy rock work, which will be commenced in July.

MISCELLANEOUS.

It is expected that work will be so far completed that trains will be running to Goldstream about the middle of the coming September.

The total number of men, exclusive of officers, employed on the McLellan contract is about 1050, with an average monthly pay roll of $30,000.

The timber for the contract is supplied by Messrs. Croft & Angus, Chemainus, and is of splendid quality. This is towed from the mills to Esquimalt harbor, there unloaded and worked ready for bridging.

The head quarters of the contractor are in Price's field, were supplies are distributed to the various camps on the line. Here is also a large camp, the trestle and rock work employing several gangs of men.

So far no accident has occurred to any workman on the line, a most gratifying circumstance.

THE OFFICERS.

Mr. McLellan has a very efficient staff of officials, who carry out the various items of railway construction in a most satisfactory manner, as is evidenced by by the excellent class of work on the contract.

Mr C. E. Perry is engineer in charge of the McLellan contract, and has been associated with many railway surveys and construction works. With him are W. Pinder, C. E., in charge of the division from Esquimalt to Goldstream; R. E. Cridge, C. E., in charge of the Antonelle contract to the north end of tunnel; H. Bolling, C. E., from tunnel to Shawnigan lake. The whole work is under the general supervision of Mr. Jos. Hunter, chief engineer of the Island road.

In the offices of the contractor are J. W. McLeod, chief accountant, and V. W. Smith, assistant.

Mr. McLellan is an experienced contractor, having built several contracts on the Northern Pacific and a couple of the wagon roads of this province. He was also at one time general superintendent of the Onderdonk contract of the C. P R.

Mr. Antonelle has had experience in railroad building in the state of New York, where he has had several contracts, and also in California, where he was a contractor in the construction of extensive waterworks.

The Naval Ball at Esquimalt.

The interest in this hospitable reception has been so general and the recollections of it are so pleasurable that we give a further account of it, to supplement what, up to the time of our going to press, could be gathered, and was published in a former number. We need only, then, refer briefly to the fact that the sail loft at the dockyard was turned as by magic into a suite of commodious apartments, suitable to the occasion, and that from the dull, heavy rafters, painted and lighted up in a combination of airy colors, down to the most minute details of the whist room, everything betokened beautiful artistic arrangement and skilful forethought. The verdant bowers and extemporized groves were found thronged with a stream of fair ladies, civilians in sober suits and gallant officers in all the glories of gold lace from nine o'clock onwards. Standing inside the entrance door of the dancing room we noticed that party after party, as they stepped in, paused and broke out into expressions of surprise and delight at the varied and masterly effects produced by the application of the rugged instruments of warfare and marine to purposes of convenience and decoration. Flags of all nations delighted the eye, while doing duty as walls and panelled pictures, while swords and guns had grown into stars of dazzling brightness. The torpedo netting metamorphized into a flowery drapery was a triumph of decorative art, and the effect as a stroke of genius, met with universal approval. It was a rare delight to pass into an inner recess, intended as a sort of Pyramus and Thisbe trysting and breathing place. But we mistook about the golden fishes being in the fountain. No, there is not where they were. They were on the sofas. It is only an act of justice to Mr. Smith-Dorien, first lieutenant of the Constance, to record the fact that it was under his immediate directions and after his special designs, the ornamental and decorative arrangements were carried out. Twenty dances appeared on the programme, every one of which—waltzes, lancers, polkas—were danced with evident delight and high relish by the company upon a floor in perfect order and to the music of Victorian artistes of unexceptionable capacity. The refreshments were of the very best quality served in profusion and with most sedulous care by the well trained attendants. The courteous attentions of Captains Doughty and Alington, also of every one of the officers, were all that England's gallant navy men are so conspicuous for the world over. To the committee of management praise is due. After three "extras," insisted upon by the kind hosts, the party broke up to find the stars waning and the day dawning. And we venture to state that it will be a long day ere the memory of the successful efforts of the gallant gentlemen of the Constance and Satellite will fade from the minds of the good people of Victoria.

A Pleasant Surprise.

At the meeting of Victoria Typographical Union No. 201, last Sunday afternoon, after the president, Mr. Ed. A. Poat, had been re-elected for another term and properly installed, Mr. J. J. Shinabarger arose and said:

"Mr. President, I arise to perform one of the most pleasant duties that ever devolved upon me. Pleasant both in my being able to be of service to my brother workmen and members, and doubly pleasant because of the opportunity it affords me to return a deserving tribute to a worthy member of our organization. A few days ago several of the printers of this city, wishing to furnish some fitting testimonial to a certain other member, showing their appreciation of his untiring efforts and mature judgment in all matters connected with our welfare, clubbed together and purchased an article which they have requested me to present. Sir, in behalf of the members of this Union, I now present you with this token of our esteem and confidence, and hope that you will not value it according to its worth in dollars and cents, but take it in the spirit in which it is given, as representing our confidence, esteem and respect, and as a pledge of our fealty and good will."

Mr. Shinabarger then presented Mr. Poat with a handsome gold-headed cane, which so took the worthy president by surprise that he could hardly find words to reply. However, he returned thanks in a fitting manner, and the business of the meeting was proceeded with.

KINGSTON, May 27.---Cadet Bell, of the Salvation Army, was to-day fined $1 and costs or ten days for blowing a horn on the streets. He said he would take the ten days, and this afternoon he was placed in gaol. He shouted, "hallelujah" as he passed behind the bars.

Gunner Nolan, of "B" battery, died in the hotel Dieu yesterday. His wife had just arrived from England to see him, where she left four children.

On Saturday a team of horses ran away with G. R. Shepherd, of Augusta, and threw him out of the waggon, when he received injuries from which he died. He was an old and respected resident of that place.

MONTREAL, May 27.---A new Jewish synagogue is about to be erected in the west end costing, with the site, $30,000 at least.

Thirty store-keepers were charged in the Recorder's Court to-day with selling fireworks and crackers to boys to set off on the Queen's birthday anniversary.

Messrs. Pillow, Hersey & Co., the nail manufacturers, were fined $40 and costs to-day for not consuming the smoke of their factory.

The police of New York are looking for an insane man, Joseph Decaire, at the request of the Montreal authorities. Detective Sergeant Golden, who has charge of the case, says, that Decaire is a brick manufacturer, who has a fortune of $500,000, at least half of which he can command by his cheque on the banks in which the money is deposited. He left Montreal on Saturday after drawing $800 and he said he was going to England. He has been traced to the Grand Central station, and is supposed to be yet in New York. He left a wife and four children in Montreal.

QUEBEC, May 27.---A nephew of Mr. Beemer, contractor, employed by his uncle upon the Lake St. John railway, a day or two ago was caught by the machinery of one of the large cranes and so badly crushed as to necessitate his immediate removal to the Jeffrey Hale hospital, where he now lies in a critical condition.

GODERICH, May 26.---Last night the stave and bolt works, sawmill, and derrick, belonging to the Star Salt Works, owned by Mr. John Scobie, were burned to the ground. The salt block was in great danger but was saved with slight damage. Loss, $5,000; insured in the Western for $1,000.

PROSPECT HOUSE, Niagara Falls, Ont., May 29.---A young man about 27 years old, named McCoom, of Welland, Ont., at 11 o'clock this morning jumped over the precipice just below the new suspension bridge, and was instantly killed.

QUEBEC, May 29.---Michael Keenan, farmer at St. Silvestre, had his farm sold under judgment summons, but refused to quit. On the purchaser attempting to plow the land Keenan fired, shooting the horse. Constables Sunard and Collier went to arrest Keenan but he kept them at bay for hours armed with an axe and aided by two sisters with broomsticks. He was ultimately overpowered, but not till Collier was severely wounded by the axe.

OTTAWA, May 29.---Lieut.-Colonel Dennison, Toronto, was elected president of the English literature section of the Royal Society yesterday.

TORONTO, May 29.---All hope of an amicable settlement of the suit of Gordon, Brown and Nelson, of Edinburgh, having been quashed. The case was brought up this morning, but as a counsel were not ready to proceed it was adjourned till the June assizess.

The Attorney General yesterday issued a commission to Justice Patterson and J. W. Langmuir to investigate the charges against the management of she Central Prison. No date is attached as to when thesittings of the commission are to be held, but the commissioners are enjoined to commence work immediately.

LONDON, May 29.---The house of John McLellan, farmer, was entered by a masked burglar on Sunday night, and Mr. McLellan was beaten in a brutal manner. His life is despaired of. There have been no arrests.

WINNIPEG, May 30.---A Manitou despatch says: "This morning the little daughter of Robt. Waldie, two years old, strayed too near a tame bear kept by Mr. Allan in this town, and was being torn by it when Mr. Allen and Mr. Fennel came to the rescue. Mr. Allen struck the bear, and it turned and knocked him down, during which time Mr. Fennel caught the child. The bear turned and snatched at the child, tearing its clothing off, and striking Mr. Fennel on the leg, but he got away. The child was badly bitten in the neck, but the doctor has good hopes of its recovery. "The bear was shot afterwards."

TORONTO, May 31.---Mayor Manning to-day received a dispatch from Col. Miller, of the Queen's own, dated Battleford, May 30th, to tell the ladies not to send them any more stores, as they expected to be home soon. The wounded were all able to be out of bed

At the city council meeting last night Ald. Frankland gave notice of motion that the council pass a resolution expressing their high appreciation and entire satisfaction with the conduct of Lieut.-Governor Robinson, and in view of his well deserved popularity, that the Governor-General-in-Council be memoralized that he be appointed to a second term of office.

OTTAWA, May 30.---Some Cabinet changes are arrainged. Macpherson leaves immediately for Germany, where he will visit the famous baths. McLellan will act as Minister of the Interior and Sir John hands over the Indian branch and mounted police to Chapleau, who will still act as Secretary of State.

PARKHILL, May 29.---There was a destructive fire here yesterday, destroying Simpson's grocery store, Digman's hotel, some dwellings and a bakery. Loss is about $10,000; partly snsured.

MONTREAL, May 30.---While a little girl, named Marie Filibarault, was taking her first communion in the church of St. Cunejonde yesterday some one dropped a candle, setting fire to her clothes. Her whole person was at once set ablaze, and before assistance could be rendered she was badly burned about the face, arms and body. A panic occurred in the church, but no one was seriously hurt. The child's condition is precarious.

Some time ago a robbery of twelve hundred dollars took place out of the safe in the city police office here without any trace being discovered of the delinquent. Suspicions have been indulged in, but that is all. The head clerk, Mr. Glackmeyer, was away for some time after, but has now come forward and asked his father, who has been city clerk for 38 years, to make the deficiency good to the city, which the latter has done.

There has been a heavy fall in grain freights from here to Great Britain. The price was three shillings per quarter, but is now only ninepence. The cause alleged is that the railways are carrying wheat from Chicago to Boston and New York for merely nominal rates, and the Erie canal route being without tolls can maintain its supremacy over the St. Lawrence.

Yellowstone National Park.

Arrangements have been perfected for the season of 1885 in the way of excursions in the Yellowstone park. The O. R. & N. Co. have on sale excursion books to this favorite resort and return. These books include rail transportation Pullman sleeping car accommodation meals at eating stations and on the dining cars, stage fare and five days hotel accommodation in the park, and will be sold at the low rate of $120 from Portland. When it is considered that this rate includes the entire expense of the trip and provides the very best accommodations, at the same time relieving tourists of the trouble of looking after and making their own arrangements, its cheapness and advantage will be appreciated. This is a rare opportunity to visit the "Wonderland" and all who can should avail themselves of it. *

MUNICIPAL.

NO. 116--A BY-LAW.

RESPECTING THE FIRE LIMITS, WOODEN BUILDINGS, AND THE STORAGE OF HAY AND STRAW.

IN AMENDMENT OF THE EXISTing By-Laws be it enacted by the Mayor and Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

1. Section 2 of "The By-Law for Prohibiting the Erection of Wooden Buildings, 1879, Amendment By-Law 1883" is hereby repealed, and in lieu thereof the following substituted:

"2. That portion of the City of Victoria which is contained within the limits hereinafter described, namely—commencing at the northwest corner of lot 127, thence running easterly along the northern boundary of the said lot to Store street, thence easterly across Store street in a straight line to the centre of Fisgard street, thence easterly along the centre of Fisgard street to the centre of Douglas street, thence southerly along the centre of Douglas street to the centre of Courtenay street, thence along the centre of Courtenay street to the northeast corner lot 8, thence along the northern boundary of lot 8 to the shore of Victoria Harbor, thence along the shore line of Victoria Harbor to the point of commencement,—is hereby declared to be within the Fire Limits of the said city."

2. No addition to or alteration of any wooden building within the said fire limits shall be made.

3. No building other than with main walls of brick, iron or stone, and roofing of incombustible material, shall be erected or placed within the said fire limits.

4. It shall be lawful for the Mayor and Council of the said city to authorize by resolution any officer therein named to pull down or remove any building which shall have been constructed or placed in contravention of this Bylaw; and all expenses reasonably incurred in pulling down or removing any such building shall be repaid by the owner or owners thereof to the treasurer of the said Corporation, and shall be recoverable with costs in a summary manner before the Police Magistrate or any other Justice of the Peace having jurisdiction within the said city.

5. In this Bylaw the word "building" shall not apply to any shed within the curtilage of another building and used exclusively for the storage of fuel for consumption in such other building, such shed not exceeding ten feet by twelve feet in superficial linear measure and ten feet in height, nor shall it apply to any shed erected or to be erected wholly on or over the wooden piles of a wharf on the water front; but no shed shall hereafter be erected on any wharf within the said fire limits other than with roofing of incombustible material.

6. The quantity of hay or straw or hay and straw permitted to be stored or kept for sale or use in any building within the fire limits shall not exceed the following, namely:

For every Livery or Hack Stable, 15 tons.

For storage or sale, 15 tons.

For private consumption, 2 tons.

7. Every Bylaw or portion of a Bylaw which is inconsistent with any provision of this Bylaw is hereby repealed.

8. This Bylaw may be cited as the "Fire Limits and Wooden Building By-Law, 1885."

Passed the Municipal Council the 8th day of April, A. D., 1885.

Reconsidered and finally passed the Council the 22nd day of April, 1885.

NO. 117---A BY-LAW

TO AMEND THE BUILDINGS REMOVAL BY-LAW, 1884.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE MAYOR and Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

1. Section 3 of the Buildings Removal By-Law, 1884, is hereby amended by striking out the word "Application" in the first line and substituting the word "applicant" therefor, and by striking out "$5" and substituting "$10" therefor.

2. Section 4 of the said By-Law is hereby amended by striking out the words "one hundred" between the words "least" and "dollars" and substituting the words "two hundred and fifty" therefor, and by striking out all the words after the word "dollars."

3. Section 5 of the said By-Law is hereby amended by striking out the words "any person moving" at the commencement thereof, and substituting the words "every person who has obtained permission as aforesaid to remove."

4. The said By-Law is hereby further amended by inserting therein the following clause as section 6 and by striking out the figure 6 and substituting the figure 7 at the commencement of the section now numbered "6." Every permission to remove any building as aforesaid shall state the number of days within which such removal is to be effected; and every person to whom such permission shall have been granted who shall fail to complete the removal therein sanctioned within the time therein limited therefor shall forfeit and pay to the Treasurer of the said Corporation the sum of $10 for each and every day or portion of a day that he shall be in default in the premises, and in every such case it shall be lawful for the Mayor or a majority of the Street Committee of the Council of the said City to cause the building to be removed from any street or public thoroughfare and all costs and expenses attending such removal shall be repaid by the owner or owners of such building to the Treasurer of the said Corporation, and shall be recoverable with costs in like manner as any penalty incurred for the breach of a By-Law.

5. This By-Law may be cited as "The Buildings Removal Amendment By-Law, 1885."

Passed the Municipal Council the 8th day of April, A. D. 1885.

Reconsidered and finally passed the Council the 22nd day of April, 1885.
